Have you ever asked yourself one of the following questions?

Labor law

- What needs to be taken into consideration if employees are not available for an extended period of time?
- What is the prescribed period that must have passed before an employee can be given notice of dismissal?
- What are the applicable notice periods?

Company law

- What procedure and what preconditions need to be taken into consideration when founding a company?
- What happens when shareholders exit the company?
- To what extent are shareholders liable?

Contract law

- What rights do you have if you wish to withdraw from a contract?
- What are the legal options in the event of non-performance or poor performance of contracts?

General insurance law

- Is the insurance for daily sickness benefits mandatory? When do benefits need to be paid?
- Who bears the costs in the event of damage to company vehicles, facilities or equipment?
- As a businessperson, am I also liable for non-work accidents?

As a businessperson, you not only need to know your business; you also have to comply with laws and regulations. Sometimes this can be challenging, as the various regulations can be very complex.

As a UBS client and Zurich customer, make use of free legal advice from Orion Legal Expenses Insurance Company Ltd.
