The benefits at a glance

- You receive payout of any positive performance of the share basket at the end of the contract period together with your original investment.
- On top you get an “extra return” as a bonus payout.
- If performance of the share basket reaches the gain lock-in threshold towards the end of the term, you get the benefit of a guaranteed minimum payout.
- In case performance is negative at maturity, a clever protection mechanism is in place to cushion any loss of capital
